Ever wondered what it's actually like to live in Japan?

We take you into the living rooms of people settling in Japan from around the world. From traditional wooden "minka" houses and average apartments to high-end residences, we discover this country's unique housing situation. How to go about renting or purchasing? Is Japan really an expensive place to live?

...On this program, we explore these questions as well as offer tips for living well. Join us as we open the doors on the foreigner perspective of life in Japan.
